Road Mishaps Over Weekend Injure Four

Four persons were injured and three cited into court following five auto accidents that occurred on area highways Saturday and Sunday.

Vance James Atkinson, 47, of Washingtonville, is in fair condition today in Salem City Hospital with a concussion and lacerations of the scalp suffered in an accident on County Road 416, one-half mile north of Leetonia, Sunday at 4:35 p.m.

Patrolmen said Atkinson attempted to pass an unknown vehicle and in so doing went off the road into a ditch because he had to avoid a car approaching from the opposite direction. He was cited for reckless operation.

Clifford Parker, 24, of Butler, Pa., and Joseph Geidner, 52, of Poland, were treated at Youngstown South Side hospital after the cars they were driving were involved in a collision on Rt. 224, two miles east of Poland, Sunday at 4:30 p.m.

Parker was treated for lacerations of the face while Geidner was treated for cracked ribs and lacerations of the nose.

Geidner was cited for reckless operation, Canfield state patrolmen said.

Arthur Crann, 21, of Youngstown, was in good condition today in South Side hospital with a fractured left leg received when he lost control of his car and hit a tree on Rt. 7, just south of Youngstown, Sunday at 4 a.m. Patrolmen said Crann was attempting to avoid another vehicle when the mishap occurred.

Thomas Harrington, 30, of Canfield, was arrested for speeding after his auto struck the rear of a car driven by Nancy Boals, 23, of RD 4, Salem, on the Damascus Road, one-half mile west of Salem, Sunday at 12:10 a.m.

Charles Postlewait, 28, of Warren, was cited for driving while intoxicated after he lost control of his car on a curve and hit a tree on Rt. 30, one-half mile west of Hanoverton, Saturday at 10:50 a.m.

Swedish Atomic Energy Official Charged As Spy

Accused Of Giving Secrets To Russia; Another Person Held

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — A high official of Sweden's Atomic Energy Commission has been arrested on charges of spying for Russia.

A police spokesman said 29-year-old Robert Folke Damstedt, the commission's assistant secretary, is being held for trial on charges of atomic espionage.

One unofficial report said a second person was held as a suspect in the case, which was said also to involve sale to Russia of blueprints of Sweden's newest submarines.

Another in Series

The disclosure added another round to the stormy exchange of spy charges and countercharges between Russia and Sweden since World War II. Last month Sweden delivered a formal protest to the Kremlin against Soviet espionage in this traditionally neutral country. That protest was coupled with rejection of a Soviet complaint that 14 spies for Sweden had been arrested and sentenced in Russia.

Unofficial reports described the Damstedt case as the most serious in the long chain since World War II. It was learned, however, that as assistant secretary, Damstedt performed mainly administrative functions and that he was a legal expert rather than a nuclear physicist.

News of the arrest came at a time when Sweden military leaders are publicly urging the government to begin manufacturing Swedish tactical atomic weapons or buy them from the West.

Can Build A-Weapons

Sweden is in the forefront of small nations in the atomic energy field. Top nuclear physicists here claim the country has both the scientific and technical knowledge as well as the economic resources to make her own atomic weapons.

Sweden is also engaged in experiments on harnessing thermonuclear (hydrogen) energy for peaceful purposes.

Sweden's atomic energy commission is the supreme organ of all Swedish atomic research and receives regular reports from all Swedish universities and nuclear laboratories.

Trio Held In Cleveland 'Movie' Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP) — The startling solution to a bank holdup, in which a movie camera made its debut as an arm of the police, has been making headlines here, but in the background are two detectives who noticed a red haired girl in a restaurant.

The detectives, William Steele and Joseph David, admired the "walk" of a girl in a restaurant three hours before the St. Clair Savings & Loan Co. was robbed of $2,376 Friday noon.

At 4:30 p.m. Friday the two were among a group who saw the two-minute film from a hidden movie camera at the bank. A bank clerk had pushed a button that started the camera and signaled central police station.

In the picture they saw a gunman with the lower part of his face masked, and they saw a girl who walked confidently to a cash drawer.

The picture was blurred, apparently by vibration near the camera, but the girl's walk looked familiar. The detectives went

Crowd Attends Lenten Service

Put Faith In Christ, Speaker Declares

"To the Christian, his great inspiration comes from the fact that not only that he has faith in Jesus Christ, but that Jesus Christ has faith in him," Dr. Jesse M. Bader, told the crowd gathered at the initial Holy Week service at noon today in the First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Bader, secretary of the World Convention of Churches in Christ, will be the speaker at the Holy Week noon services which will extend through Thursday in the Presbyterian Church, and at the Good Friday service in the First Methodist Church.

Using as his subject today, "A Vital Faith for Fearless Living," Dr. Bader said that "Jesus made great claims for faith and was always talking about how it would work and what great things it would do. He said, 'If you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, you can say to this mountain remove hence and it will remove.'"

This was Jesus' way of saying that faith can do the seemingly impossible, Dr. Bader continued.

Faith is man's answer to the impossible, and faith is seeing possibilities in the impossible, Dr. Bader stated. "It does make a difference what you believe. Faith not only saves men but faith can and does destroy men. If one's faith is in the wrong thing, it will destroy him but if it is in the right thing it will save him."

"The conflict today is not between religion and irreligion, the speaker continued, "today it is between rival faiths. Materialism is a faith. Communism is a faith. Christianity is a faith."

Whether faith saves or destroys depends on the object of one's faith, according to Dr. Bader. "The object of the Christian's faith is God. He is the sovereign, timeless, eternal God. He is the God that Jesus came to reveal. Faith in Him is saving faith," he said.

"The object of the Christian's

State Charts New Rt. 30 In County

Ohio's Department of Highways, now has in its hands the completed preliminary engineering survey for a new, four-lane, divided U.S. Route 30 between East Liverpool and Canton.

The 179-page engineering study was turned over to the state in the last two weeks by Erdman, Smock & Hosley Engineering Services of Columbus.

It recommends that a .50-mile-long limited - access freeway be built linking Canton and East Liverpool.

The engineers estimate that if it is built as a four-lane, turnpike-type highway the cost would be $62,869,642. But if it is constructed as a two-lane highway, the cost would be $37,117,913.

WALTER D. MOULTON, chief of the State Highway Department's Division 4 office in Ravenna, said the state now will spend about two months reviewing the engineering consultants' studies and recommendations.

As of now, the new U.S. Route 30's status in the state highway program is still in the preliminary stages, Mr. Moulton said. Construction is at least two to four years away, he added.

It is scheduled as part of the state's "advance engineering, right-of-way and construction" program. That means it holds the same position as the new Lake Erie - Ohio River freeway (Route 7).

THESE PROJECTS are still in the "thinking" stages although the Route 30 and Route 7 projects have had the preliminary surveying completed.

Mr. Moulton said after the state has reviewed the surveys and if it accepts the recommendations, the next step would be for the highway department to contract with the engineers to make studies for the centerline of the highway. Then the state would be in a position to acquire the right-of-way.

After that, detailed construction plans would have to be drawn, bids received and the contract awarded.

Leetonia Man Fined On Three Charges

Raymond Dunlap, 40, of Leetonia, was fined $165 and sentenced to 10 days in jail Saturday by Mayor Dean B. Cramer on charges of leaving the scene of an accident, driving without a license and reckless operation.

Dunlap was cited after his auto collided with a car driven by Margaret Gier, 48, of Washingtonville at the intersection of E. State St. and Ohio Ave. Saturday at 12:22 p.m.

Police said Dunlap did not stop after striking Mrs. Gier's car and when city police, with the cooperation of Leetonia police, apprehended him at his home, they found he had no driver's license and had taken the license plates from his car in an attempt to conceal his identity.

Dunlap was fined $100 and given 10 days in jail for leaving the scene of an accident, $50 for reckless operation, and forfeited a $15 bond for having no driver's license.

Jordanian King Calls Leaders To Conference

Army Supports Hussein In Purge Of Pro-Egyptians

BULLETIN

AMMAN (AP) — Hussein Fakhri Khalidi, a pro-Western political leader, was named Jordan's new premier today. This was a victory for King Hussein in a six-day-old cabinet crisis.

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — King Hussein moved swiftly today to shore up his gains in his bold struggle to purge pro-Egyptian leaders from Jordan's army and political life.

With major units of the 24,000-man Jordan army apparently still supporting him, Hussein summoned all of Jordan's past premiers and most of Parliament to a top-level political conference at the palace. Sunday the 21-year-old King deposed the army's pro-Egyptian chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Ali Abu Nawar, to Syria.

Hussein still faced a grave threat in the possibility of rioting among his Palestinian subjects. But there was no word of violence today in Jordan.

A dispatch from Amman said among those invited to the palace meeting was Suleiman Nabulsi, the leftist leader dismissed by Hussein last Wednesday. The action set off the Jordan crisis, now in its sixth day. Earlier Nabulsi had been reported under house arrest.

Informed sources in Amman said the King told the political leaders of steps taken to form a new government. Said Muti, an independent and speaker of the Senate, was trying for the third time to put together a cabinet.

In Damascus, the Jordanian Embassy issued a statement saying Hussein adheres to the "liberal Arab policy" drawn up by Hussein, King Saud of Saudi Arabia, and Presidents Nasser of Egypt and Shukri Kuwalty of Syria.

The statement said Hussein was

Uncle Sam Takes Huge Tax Bite Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam takes his big tax bite today — a 60-billion-dollar levy. For the rest of the year he has to get along on nibbles.

This is the day income taxes are due. They total about 38½ billion dollars. Corporations, too, have to settle their tax accounts with the government. That comes to about 21½ billions more.

But it takes more than 60 billion dollars to run the government. The budget for the fiscal year which ends June 30 is $70,628,000,000.

On top of that there is nearly 13 billion dollars that has to be applied to such things as the Social Security trust fund, the highway trust fund, the railroad retirement account and refunds to taxpayers.

That leaves Uncle Sam needing about 23½ billion dollars after individuals and corporations ante up their tax money today.

But don't feel too sorry for him. He has ways of getting it.

Excise taxes, for instance, this year will net the government about 10½ billion dollars.

You may not notice it, but the government collects 2 cents for every 1,000 matches sold — 5½ cents if they have "fancy wooden or colored stems."

Buy a quart of beer and Uncle Sam gets 7 cents. He gets $2.10 on a bottle (fifth) of whisky.

Most excise taxes are hidden in the price you pay for things because they're collected from the manufacturer. He pays it — and passes the cost along to you.

On jewelry, furs, toilet preparations and luggage (including handbags and wallets), Uncle Sam nicks you for 10 per cent of the retail cost.

Those built-in taxes, generally 10 per cent of the manufacturers' selling price, are levied on a host of household items. On light bulbs alone, Uncle figures to take in 24 million dollars this year.

He also gets his cut when you buy a phonograph or phonograph records, a radio, television set, refrigerator or car.

There's something in it for Uncle Sam when you buy a fountain pen or a fishing rod, make a telephone call or go to the movies, buy a roll of film or join a club, take a train ride or rent a safety deposit box.

If all this makes you feel like blowing your brains out, remember that Uncle Sam has a tax on firearms and ammunition too.

Even after the government collects some seven million dollars on wagering taxes (most of it from bookies), there still is a shortage of about 13 billion dollars in the cash box.

The biggest chunk of this — nearly three billion dollars — comes from an item called "recoveries and refunds." This includes compensation for government property lost or damaged, war reparations and recoveries under military occupation ($100,000 this year), recoveries of excess profits and costs and recoveries under foreign aid programs.

Most of the remaining 10 billion dollars flows into the Treasury through business fees and permits.

COLUMBIANA — Sponsored by Columbiana and Mahoning county farm agents, a meeting on egg quality is scheduled for the Northeast Ohio Poultry Association plant in Columbiana on Tuesday evening, April 23.

ing of eggs. Producers in attendance are asked to have with them a half case of eggs each for the grading demonstration. In the 11 counties in Northeastern Ohio and Northwestern Pennsylvania tributary to the association, producers average about five cases a week, and the aim is to increase production to six or seven cases.

Manager Thomas Newsom of the plant here says eggs received are of a high quality, but further improvement will promote consumption.

At 8 p.m., Emil Malonovsky, egg specialist from Ohio State University, will be the speaker, and there will be a panel discussion by producers on methods of production and care of eggs on the farm.

The meeting is not confined to the two counties or the counties of the association, but all persons interested in the production of eggs will be welcome.

Cincinnati Printers Accept New Offer

CINCINNATI (AP)—A last-ditch offer by management has scotched the possibility of a printers' strike at Cincinnati's three daily news papers.

Publisher's representatives came up with the offer Sunday just before a meeting of International Typographical Union printers to consider a strike vote. At the meeting, the offer was accepted, 336-139.

The offer agreed upon provides: A weekly wage increase of $4.50 the first year, retroactive to last Jan. 1, and an additional $4 weekly for the second year.

An agreement that continues through April 15, 1959.

Under the old contract, which expired last Dec. 31, wages ranged from $110-$117 weekly, with $2 weekly welfare benefits.

The new offer was 50 cents higher than the best previous offer.

Negotiators for both sides met with a federal mediator Saturday, but that session was adjourned at the publishers' request.

Officials of the newspapers — the morning Enquirer and afternoon Times-Star and Post — made arrangements in case of a strike to pool news for transmission by Greater Cincinnati radio stations.

Berserk Woman Kills Son, Wounds Daughter

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Jessie E. Hockensmith, 37, was in serious condition at a hospital here today after police said she slashed two of her children's throats with a butcher knife and then cut her own throat and wrists.

Her oldest son, William Jr., 12, died.

A daughter, Jo Carol, 10, was reported in fair condition. A third child, Hadley, 6, escaped by running to a neighbor's house, police said.

The woman's husband, Maj. William A. Hockensmith, 37, of the Dayton Air Force Depot told police he ran downstairs in their home here Sunday when he heard the "commotion" and found his son lying on the floor and his wife standing with two butcher knives in her hand.

He said he was unable to explain why his wife went "berserk" except that she had been in bad health and was feeling "despondent."

Mrs. Hockensmith was placed under an armed guard at the hospital.

Popular Doubts

If you have not learned that big-budget defenders now claim it is good for you to pay federal income taxes at rates that rattle your teeth, you are missing the main point of budget cutting.

It is not only the money that is important but the principle of the thing. The executive government has made up its bureaucratic mind that confiscatory taxes are good for people. But it has not quieted popular doubts about this kind of taxation. The doubts are being reflected in Congress.

They come to a climax each year at income-tax deadline when millions of citizens who have been too busy working to realize how much effort was being drained into the cost of government go to work on final settlements.

Taxpayers realize then that the insatiable appetite of the federal government is taking a murderously huge bite out of wherewithal for their private defense and welfare programs and economic assistance.

The culprit is the income tax.

This is the tax that produces so much money it keeps the federal government humping to spend the revenue from it. Consistently, year in and year out, it has underestimated income tax yield, except during the depression of the thirties.

If advocates of spending as the basis of national prosperity had studied a hundred years to develop a tax to underwrite their Keynesian philosophy, they could not have found a better device than the graduated tax scale, with its sliding range from a fifth to nine-tenths of a taxpayer's earning power.

It is too soon to be sure that congressional budget-cutting will mean anything this year. But it is not too soon to be sure there is a head-on clash of opinion between theorists who claim it is beneficial for all concerned to pay confiscatory taxes and taxpayers who want to spend a larger part of their money in their own way.

Being an orderly people, Americans are in no danger of a tax revolt. But being a firm people, they are in no danger of relenting from their hard judgment that federal taxes are subject to the rule that what goes up must come down. They want their government to sweat out some belt-tightening for a change.

Availability Test

The mere fact it never gets anywhere is no reason to avoid the latest discussion of the men—and women—who represent the United States in diplomatic posts.

The subject is hot. Appointment of a couple of political hangers-on with no visible qualifications, following Vice President Nixon's blast at U.S. diplomats in Africa, plus renewed evidence that a fat contribution to a political party is the best way to nab an ambassadorial plum have fed the fire.

President Eisenhower's press conference explanation that the State Department must do the best it can to hook up the more expensive diplomatic jobs with men who can afford to take them is the key to the whole situation.

The State Department also must hook up the less desirable diplomatic jobs with men who can afford to take them — and not solely with an eye to financial reasons. An obscure post is suitable only for an obscure citizen who is willing to take it because he has nothing to lose.

The availability test in other words, is more important than the capability test. This also is true of government employees other than diplomats. It may be true, for example, of many representatives and senators, who always are first to fault the diplomats for their shortcomings.

Congressmen too, are chosen sometimes because they were the most available, not because they were the most capable.

Confidence Winner

The public review board set up by the United Automobile Workers convention to keep a continuous check on the union is so nearly without precedent no one knows how it will work.

But it has been a masterful bit of public relations at a time when unions need all the good will they can win. If eight outsiders of good reputation and public stature are willing to stake their reputations on the big auto union's ability to save them from embarrassment, something had to convince them.

It goes without saying in the light of the conviction of labor racketeers in New York for looting union funds and the Senate disclosures of questionable money handling in the Teamsters Union that not every union could set up a public review board. Some of them could not bear the scrutiny of outsiders.

Walter P. Reuther, president of UAW, had to put up a stiff fight for the review board. But it was a fight worth putting up, not only for the impact on public opinion but for its impact on UAW members.

Unions can be no better than their active membership. It is impossible to think of any stronger spur to membership activity than the knowledge of the members, themselves, that outsiders had been asked to sit in continuous review on UAW affairs.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Ex-Sen. James Duff, private attorney for Teamster President Dave Beck who seldom has passed up a buck, is now passing the buck along the Potomac to a group of Virginia gentlemen by the names of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and James Madison. They were also Presidents, but then their organization had only 4 million dollars left in the treasury. You see they had to spend some money for uniforms and they didn't know Nate Shefferman and couldn't get them wholesale.

Counselor Duff and I briefly discussed Beck and the ex-senator said:

"There's the great heritage of Washington, Jefferson and Madison and every citizen, including Mr. Beck, is still entitled to what they left us in the Constitution."

Mr. Duff made the point that Beck was entitled to his civil rights and protection of the Fifth Amendment. Apparently overlooked are the rights of 1½ million teamsters under what's left of their union constitution.

JUST WHAT these are you can't quite tell. For on reading the Teamsters' Constitution, Section 2 A, Article 6, you find that President Dave Beck and he alone, has the right to interpret it.

So it's understandable that the founding father of the Teamsters is so dedicated to the proposition that his membership know more about the Constitution written by this nation's founding fathers than their own union's. On advice of counsel, no doubt:

President Beck has it all worked out if we gather it correctly from a scout or two who sat in on a very private session of Teamsters' lawyers last Friday in Washington's Hotel Woodner. Beck spoke to them for 20 minutes, it was reported.

He told the union's attorneys to go back to their districts and make the rounds of the Teamster locals in their home territory. And he assigned them the task of making the U.S. Constitution really understood in his union halls.

Tell them, he said, that the Fifth Amendment is sacred. Tell them it is their precious heritage. Tell them that every citizen under our laws has the right to plead the Fifth Amendment without any insinuation of guilt.

Tell them, too, that the Senate probe is really anti-labor and aimed at our freedoms.

THERE WAS ANOTHER speaker, an erudite counselor from St. Louis by the name of Jack Wiley who has been observing the Senate hearings daily. He, too, said there was great harm being done to the Teamsters and to the entire labor movement.

Mad Dog Loose

By TRUMAN TWILL

I would not know a TV rating from an Einstein equation, but it takes no sense to know something has gone sour in the TV rating system.

A new industry is heading for the same trouble that gave fits to the movie industry — abject dependence on the mass audience.

The movies used their boxoffices to give them their ratings. They did not have to depend on outside agencies to tell them the size of their numerical support.

But they never devised a system to tell them what their numerical support was thinking about their product — and that is the mistake television can profit by, if it takes advantage of the movies' experience.

There is more to the relationship between the people and the arts than numbers. If there were not, no poetry would be written, no sculptures sculpted, no paintings painted.

No one would go to the trouble of writing symphonies and concertos. Opera would not be worth the time. No one in the movie industry would have fooled with anything as risky as the award-winning pictures that were so-so at the boxoffice but terrific with people who knew what was good.

Burlesque would have run the legitimate theater into oblivion. Television would have ingested indefinitely in the pie — throwing pitch that proved so popular at the outset, and its finest hour would be the one in which an Elvis Presley held the spotlight. Nothing would be risked for the sake of art, itself.

That is the fallacy in the practice of rating any medium by numbers. It is not numbers that comprise quality. Eventually the arts stand or fall on quality.

Survival of the commercialized arts does depend on popular support. There must be, therefore, a reasonable balance between what is necessary to stay solvent and what is necessary to maintain respect.

But the balance never is going to be maintained by over-dependence on rating systems based on numbers alone, particularly when there is disagreement between systems. The numbers, themselves, are open to dispute.

What is there to be upset about if you are not personally involved

It is significant that there were only 25 of the 10 or so Teamster lawyers present. Usually there are some 50 or 60 at these skull sessions.

Our scouts assumed that these were the lawyers from areas loyal to Dave Beck — which leaves quite an opposition bloc.

There are many powerful figures inside the Teamster's union who are not quite passionate over the idea of Beck's running for president again — as he fully intends to do next September in Miami Beach.

It is now certain, for example, that one battalion of Teamster chiefs is fighting for Chicago's Bill Leo, the union's seventh vice-president.

The measure of this man is the fact that he has been under constant bodyguard for several years — since some hoods stepped out of a doorway and told him they wanted to cut in. They didn't.

BILL LEE WOULD have the support of AFL-CIO president George Meany, whose autographed picture still hangs in Lee's office.

Among the close friends of the 61-year-old Lee is one Richard Daley, mayor of Chicago, who is one of the 3,000 members of Lee's ofery, Cracker and Yeast Wagon Drivers Union.

Mr. Lee is a busy man. He is president of the Chicago Federation of Labor. He helps direct a bank and he is the head of the City Civil Service Commission.

There are other candidates, but the most interesting campaign being waged is for St. Louis' lanky Teamster leader Harold Gibbons.

Gibbons is head of the union's Warehouse Division. He is an intellectual, an idea man and is considered honest.

His claim to strength is his devotion to Jim Hoffa. When the Detroit was arrested in Washington by the FBI, Gibbons was prominent in the news photos of the quixotic moment in history.

LATER GIBBONS explained to his members:

"Many people here undoubtedly saw a picture of me beside Hoffa when he was under arrest. I don't make a practice of getting in pictures but I very deliberately walked into this one because I wanted to show the membership, and the whole public for that matter, that I was 100 per cent for him. This case shows the lengths to which the foes of labor will go in an effort to destroy an honest and decent labor leader..."

Gibbons' campaign is being handled by a Washington publicist and lawyer, now working for Hoffa.

Everybody seems to be in there deciding who will be the next Teamsters' president — everybody but the 1½ million Teamster rank-and-files.

How about a referendum vote of these members just to prove that the heritage of Washington, Jefferson and Madison belongs to others besides Dave Beck and company. The Hall Syndicate

Pensions Top $2.5 Billion Mark

By WILLIAM RAPP

The congressional investigation of union welfare funds has focused nationwide attention on the phenomenal growth of pension plans administered by unions. Last year, American business spent 2½ billion dollars on pension programs, the bulk of it on plans covering eight million unionized workers.

In the last decade, pensions have moved well up into the forefront of organized labor's demands and the next decade may see American workers putting more bargaining emphasis on their retirement plans than on annual wage increases.

Eleven years ago, the federal government estimated that one million employees were covered by union-negotiated pension programs. In a recent 18-month period, 300,000 men and women in California alone achieved pension rights for the first time under union-management schemes.

BY COMPARISON, pension arrangements for executives and other non-union employees increased only one million since 1945, covering 5½ million people by Dec. 31, 1956.

The AFL-CIO estimated several months ago that "probably" three-quarters of the pension plans established under collective bargaining agreements are financed entirely by employers.

A number of plans in effect in major companies which previously required employee contributions no longer do so. Sperry Gyroscope and American Viscose Corporation are two firms which assumed the full burden of pension costs in new union contracts.

Significant among recent changes in pension plans is the extension of vesting rights. Such rights permit a man to leave his employer but still receive upon retirement that portion of the pension he earned before separation.

A United States Labor Department inquiry in 1955 reported that almost 45 per cent of plans covering a sample three million organized workers included some form of vesting. Since then, the steel industry, with 650,000 union employees, has granted such equity provisions.

LAST YEAR, the Teamsters

Union on the west coast pioneered a unique form of vestment. Known as the "mobile pension," the set-up allows an employee covered by the union not only to change his employer within the industry but to switch industries and still maintain and build up full pension credits as long as the new employer is under contract to the Teamsters Union.

Pension programs calculate benefits on a variety of formulas, the chief ingredient often being length of service. Agreements with the big three automobile producers negotiated by Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers pay a retired worker $2.25 a month for each year of service prior to retirement.

Another popular plan calls for a single fixed sum paid to all workers who reach 65 with a specified minimum service record.

In New York, the International Ladies Garment Workers Union pays $65 a month to all members at age of 65 who have worked in the trade and held membership in the union for a number of years.

CASH BENEFITS have been rising steadily. In 1952, the Labor Department estimated that the average pension paid to a $4,000 a year man with 30 years of service was $136 a month, including $85 in Social Security benefits.

Last year, the AFL-CIO estimated, a $4,200 a year employee with the same service record received an average payment of between $170 and $200 a month, including $108 from Social Security. While labor leaders call progress to date "significant," they feel that "existing plans have by no means yet achieved fully adequate and desirable standards."

In a special study on retirement pointing the way ahead for 1957, the AFL-CIO "Collective Bargaining Report" predicted that unions will be asking for: Increased benefit payments, full vesting, improved disability provisions and protection of widows.

Better Emotional Health

Some of the questions I receive are extremely vague and difficult to discuss.

One of these comes from a correspondent who asks for a discussion of "better emotional health." She says that ever since childhood she has cried easily and that a song, a sad story or anything of that sort, touches her too deeply.

Others write that they are "nervous and highstrung" and complain of a great many different kinds of pains, aches or other symptoms.

Medical textbooks do not contain chapters on "better emotional health" or "being nervous and highstrung," and there are few articles in the medical journals dealing with subjects like these. It is probable that when people use such terms and complain of such varying symptoms they are not suffering from any single disease and that the origin of their difficulties stems from a variety of different factors.

Most such people, however, usually become excited and upset easily whenever they are angered, frightened or subjected to any other strong emotion.

Quite likely there are many different reasons for an exaggerated reaction to emotions. Sometimes there may be a family tendency to be easily disturbed.

While doctors have difficulty in pinning such conditions down to any definite thing, many believe that it is closely tied up with a part of the nervous system known as the "sympathetic nervous system," which is not directly under control of the will or the brain.

Some of those who complain of being highstrung or nervous, complain also of excessive perspiration — likewise worse under emotional stress — easy blushing, fainting and other involuntary reactions.

If the cause of these conditions is vague, it is naturally difficult to know what to do about them.

Some people with such symptoms improve by taking regular exercise and getting more regular sleep. Others — perhaps most — are better when they have had a vacation and are rested than when they have been under the strain of work or excessive household duties. A few learn how to relax better, and improve when they do.

There are many unfortunates suffering emotional ills, however, who merely make the rounds from doctor to doctor seeking some cause which can be treated by drugs or surgery and never find a solution to their problems.

Perhaps some day a solution or solutions may be offered. But at present those who complain of "nervousness" or excessive response to emotion can hardly ever be helped much by anything which can be done for them in a medical or surgical way except sometimes by psychiatry.

Most must learn how to live with themselves and to ignore, as far as possible, the unpleasant symptoms for which a cause and successful treatment cannot be found.

Teddy Nadler And The Army

Teddy Nadler, a top TV jackpot winner, with $152,000, is taking a year's vacation from his $85 a week job as an Army depot clerk. He can well afford it and even with income taxes taking $85,000 and more, he probably has more money than any two army generals and possibly as much ready cash as the entire general staff.

His depot job had to do with supplies for the service and despite his amazing performance on TV, we hear he had trouble with questions like "Did those canned eggs go out yet?" — "Where's the invoice?" — "What's new with the Army socks?"

NADLER SAYS he got no further with the Army because "it has no use for my type of knowledge."

This seems ridiculous. As a highly solvent young man who seems to have all the answers and know-how to get dough fast he could be used to help balance the budget.

NADLER'S DISTINCTION has been his coverage of almost every field and it is hard to see why the government hasn't grabbed him out of the warehouse and put him to work in Washington where there is a desperate need for right answers.

Uncle Sam could certainly use somebody who could answer such questions as "Name any mountain higher than the federal debt?" — "What are the highest waterfalls in the world and how close is the U.S. Treasury from going over in a barrel?" — "Name any three battles tougher than the present Battle against Inflation."

HE MIGHT BE of special service assigned to the Pentagon to give swift answers to the question "How many more laps do I have to cover before I reach the right office?" He could be of value to Ike on those press conferences.

We have heard Ike hesitate on many questions Nadler could probably answer and add, "Do you want a simple answer or shall I go into all the details?"

Note: We are going to comment further along this line, but our chief scout assigned to the matter just brings word that there is no such person as Nadler. He is a mechanical brain in a two-piece suit. "He is Univac with a bloodstream and a big checking account," the scout says.)

The finished kits should be in the Girl Scout office by May 1 when the program committee will prepare them for mailing.

Each kit may include a sweater, socks, underwear, comb, bobby pins, hair ribbons, crayons, scissors, construction paper, small games and toys and paper dolls.

Leaders needing camp aids should notify Mrs. Barckhoff immediately.

Idea Girl

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) How would you like to fly around the earth and attend the top shows in all the world's entertainment capitals?

"We're planning such a tour right now for some time after Christmas," said Betty Murray, one of Broadway's most unusual idea girls.

Miss Murray, known as "The Show Plane Lady," is perhaps the most stagestruck woman in America. She was a varsity player on the clarinet and the oboe in college, but now she plays all her concertos on an even more lovable instrument—the cash register.

"My mother was a singer and my father was a comedian," she said, "and I yearned to do high idealistic things in the theater myself. But I found my real talent was as a promoter."

Betty came to Broadway with a handful of dreams back in 1947. She took the first job she could find — as a switchboard jockey and utility typist for a local radio station. Then she began promoting trade shows.

In 1954 the tall, slender blue-eyed girl, caught the attention of Herman Shumlin, producer of "Inherit the Wind." He made her a production assistant.

Shortly thereafter she heard a group of producers griping about the summer lull along Broadway. She reasoned that the hinterland must be full of people who'd like to fly to a weekend in New York and fill all those empty seats.

"But many people hate to come here by themselves," she said. "They also hate to make hotel and theater reservations. Why couldn't I set up a simple package deal to take care of them?"

She did. She found the woods were full of folks thrilled to find out that for $37.50 plus plane fare they could stay at a hotel in Manhattan, dine at Sardi's, meet the theatrical celebrities at a cocktail party and attend two Broadway plays.

Since then Betty, as founder and president of the American Theater Institute, has ferried 25,000 players here by plane and bus from all parts of America, Cuba and Canada.

The idea has become a multi-million-dollar enterprise. Betty has had no difficulty getting famous Broadway producers and actors to attend her cocktail parties.

Next month Betty will shepherd a group of 71 theater lovers on her first "International Show Plane" trip to Europe. They will attend performances in England, Paris, and Rome, meet Sir Laurence Olivier, Ingrid Bergman and Mario Lanza — and play a bit of roulette at Monte Carlo.

The round-the-world trip will follow at the end of the year.

Africa's most deadly and vindictive animals are the Cape buffaloes, which have been known to ambush hunters when wounded.

The Pythian Sisters held their annual inspection Tuesday evening with District Edith Jackson of Coalberg as inspecting officer. Forty members were present. Visitors were present from Columbiana.

Mrs. Ruth Deffenbaugh was taken into the temple as a new member by initiation, and Mrs. Ethel Jackson won the "Good of the Order" gift.

The district deputy was presented a gift from the temple which she gave a grade of "good."

Lunch was served at the conclusion of the meeting.

At the next meeting on April 23 the April birthdays will be honored.

Mrs. Ray Davis is visiting with relatives in Easton, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dermotta and family were Sunday guests in the homes of his sisters, Mr. and Mrs.

Ed Novack and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scully of Cleveland.

Orioles, Senators Open Big League Baseball Season Today

Cleveland Will Play White Sox Tomorrow

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Baltimore and Washington, neither a serious challenger for the American League pennant, had the stage all to themselves as the 1957 major league baseball season got under way today with the traditional solo opener in the nation's capital.

A pair of run-of-the-mill right-handers, Hector Brown (9-7) of the Orioles and Bob Chakales (4-4) of the Senators, were poised for the inaugural but not before a much more noted pitcher, President Dwight D. Eisenhower, threw out the first ball.

The majors roll into high gear Tuesday with all teams active as the National League starts its 82nd season and the American its 57th.

The New York Yankees remain a prohibitive favorite to win their third straight pennant and eighth in nine years under Manager Casey Stengel. The odds-makers have made them 2-5 favorites, shortest on record.

All observers expect another tight race in the National League. Milwaukee is a slight favorite over Brooklyn and Cincinnati. This trio fought it right down to the wire last year with the Dodgers edging out the Braves by one game and the Redlegs by two.

The experts don't give the other teams much of a chance unless the Yankees should run into an endless run of injuries or a "dark horse" team like the St. Louis Cardinals should get hot.

The three clubs expected to provide the sternest opposition to the Yankees will be under the leadership of new managers. Kerby Farrell, after a 10-year apprenticeship

Furillo's Remark Draws Braves' Fire

By CHUCK CAPALDO

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Carl Furillo's crack that Milwaukee still isn't hungry enough to win the National League pennant is a tiptoe, the Braves say, that he and his Brooklyn Dodger teammates ain't what they used to be.

"Sounds to me like they're running scared already," said Warren Spahn Sunday after the Braves had concluded their spring exhibition season with a 5-4 loss to Cleveland.

"He knows we're in better condition than a year ago and he knows we think we can win it," Spahn added, "so he's just trying to give the folks back home something to talk about."

"Then again, he probably feels bad because the Dodgers, defending champions, aren't being picked by many people to repeat. When they start talking like that, you know they're worried."

Furillo, veteran Dodger right fielder, was quoted as saying last week that the Braves weren't going to win because "they're not hungry enough — they're the same club that couldn't hold an eight-game lead last year."

29 Teams Enter 15th Ohio Relays

Event Scheduled At OSU Saturday

By DEAN WAKEFIELD

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A record field of 29 teams and more than 500 entries have been booked for the 15th Annual Ohio Relays at Ohio State University Saturday.

The relays, which bring some of the nation's top track and field talent to Columbus, this year have attracted Greg Bell of Indiana, Olympic broad jump champion, and Ira Murchison of Western Michigan, who shares the world record in the 100-meter dash.

Bell, generally regarded as the most serious threat to Jesse Owens' broad jump record since the Ohio State great leaped 26 feet, 3/4 inches 22 years ago, has come within 1/4 inches of Owens' formidable record.

Bell heads an otherwise average field of broad jumpers. Murchison, who has run the 100 meters in 10.1 seconds, will have stiffer competition from an array of Big Ten dash men, including Bell, in the 100-yard dash.

Ohio State's Olympic Champion Glenn Davis will compete in three relay races. Don Laz, the Champaign, Ill., architect who is one of the pole vaulters to clear 15 feet in the pole vault, will also be on hand for the relays.

Illinois' Al Urbankas, who won the Big Ten indoor high jump championship at Ohio State this winter, will probably have to approach the 6 foot, 8 inch mark he reached then to take the relays title from several others who have reached 6 feet 6 inches and higher.

Willie Mays of Indiana, Big Ten champ in the 120-yard high hurdles, will be on hand to try for another title. So will several other Big Ten winners, including Len Deaume of Northwestern in the 1,000-yard run and Wisconsin half-miler Austin Cotton, who is entered in the 600-yard run.

Dave Lean of Michigan State, the Australian Olympic star, who was disqualified in the Big Ten indoor meet, will push Cotton for the 600 meter title.

Phil Coleman of the Chicago Track Club, Olympic steeplechaser, has a 4:05 mile to his credit and appears to be the strongest contender in the relays mile.

He's also entered in the 1,000-meter run and could win that one as well.

In addition to the individual events, the relays will have distance and sprint medleys, and 440-yard, 880-yard mile and two-mile relays and a 440-yard shuttle hurdle relay.

Murchison will head a Western Michigan team favored in the 440-yard relay. Most Big Ten schools have teams entered in the relay events.

The relays will draw entries from the Western Conference

28,000 Are Expected At Washington Game

day in the nation's capital, the annual occasion for dignitaries and plain everyday "kill the umpire" fans to mingle at Griffith Stadium and help get the '57 baseball season under way.

President Eisenhower will pitch the first ball.

The weatherman predicted a sunny afternoon.

The Baltimore Orioles and Washington Senators provide the competition, launching the 1957 season a day ahead of the other major league clubs.

Herb Score To Start For Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Herb Score, 23-year-old southpaw, will be on the pitcher's mound for the Cleveland Indians when they meet the Chicago White Sox here Tuesday to launch their 1957 campaign.

It will be the first opening-day assignment for Score, who won 20 and lost 9 last year. He will be facing another 20-game southpaw, Billy Pierce of the White Sox.

Pierce was the winner in the opener at Chicago last year, when the White Sox defeated Cleveland 2-1. Bob Lemon pitched for Cleveland.

Score was nominated by manager Kerby Farrell after the Indians edged the Milwaukee Braves 5-4 in an exhibition game at Milwaukee Sunday.

Farrell said he picked Score because he was in better condition than Lemon or Early Wynn.

Wynn, recently recovered from a hip injury, was the winning pitcher against the Braves. He gave up seven hits and all four Milwaukee runs in the five innings he pitched.

Lemon was tentatively scheduled to pitch the opener until he was called to the West Coast last because of the death of a sister.

An Indians' spokesman said the field at Municipal Stadium, which has been covered for the past five days, is in good condition. Cleveland weather has shown some improvement in the last day or so, and most of last week's snowfall has melted off. The Indians are hoping for sunshine and warmer temperatures tomorrow, when a crowd of 35,000 is expected for the season opener.

schools plus Kentucky, Eastern and Western Michigan, Pittsburgh, Wayne, Butler, several athletic clubs and a few unattached competitors.

Some of the smaller Ohio colleges who will send representatives include Miami, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Baldwin - Wallace, Ohio Wesleyan, Ohio University, Denison, Bowling Green, Kent State, and Western Reserve.

Indians, Pirates Pace Leagues

Come Out On Top In Exhibition Tilts

By The Associated Press

Step up and meet the champions—the Pittsburgh Pirates, no less.

The young, brave and hopeful Buccos finished the exhibition season Sunday with a 20-10 record, although they lost their finale, 4-3, to Detroit.

The Pirates had a .667 average, just a half-game ahead of the Milwaukee Braves. The standings were figured on all games, against both major league and minor league opposition.

In the American League, the Cleveland Indians came out on top with a 19-14 record good for .576. The New York Yankees were second with an 18-16 mark. The Indians, of course, played most of their games against the New York Giants.

The Tigers, who have been losing loads of one-run games all spring, finally won one against the Pirates, mostly as a result of Jim Finigan's two-run homer and Bill Tuttle's two-run double.

The Brooklyn Dodgers polished off the Yanks, 2-1, in the Yankee Stadium, and that old Yankee-killer, Johnny Podres, held the Bombers completely in check for the first four innings to run his scoreless string against them to 21 innings starting with the last two stanzas of the third game of the 1955 World Series.

In the only extra-inning game of the day, the Giants toppled the Baltimore Orioles at Baltimore, 6-5. Bill Taylor was the man of the hour for the Giants, coming up in the 11th inning with a mate on base and crashing an inside-the-park homer.

Elsewhere, the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Boston Red Sox, 4-2, at Boston; the Indians whipped the Braves, 5-4, at Milwaukee; the Chicago Cubs licked the Chicago White Sox, 4-1,

Stan Leonard Wins Greensboro Tourney

By KEN ALYTA

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—Stan Leonard of Canada has found that for him, at least, life on the links does begin at 40.

He pocketed $2,000 first money in the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament Sunday with a 69 finish for a 276 to win his first American tournament in three years of circuit play.

A professional for 17 years, the balding Leonard stayed pretty close to home most of that time. He won the Canadian PGA title five times and had a good club job. The life of a traveling circuit player held little appeal for him.

But several leading American pros told him he was "missing the boat" by not taking his chances in the United States where the big money is. So he took his first fling at a tournament schedule two years back.

Although he never won until Sunday, he was often well up in the money.

Leonard won about $5,700 in eight U. S. starts this year before coming here. Three times in the Masters at Augusta, Ga., he has finished in the top 25. He pocketed about $14,000 last year.

Leonard, who plays from Lachute, Canada, had a three-stroke edge over Mike Souchak, Grossinger's N. Y., who played with him.

Julius Boros, Southern Pines, N. C., tied for third at 280 with young Gary Player, Johannesburg, South Africa.

Hollywood — Noel Humphreys, 126, Charleston, W. Va., outpointed Irish Tommy Bain, 127, Los Angeles, 10.

Marlene Hagge Leads Dallas Women's Open

DALLAS (AP)—Marlene Bauer Hagge, the imperturbable little blonde with the deadly putter, moved back toward the top in money-winnings today as she led the field by two strokes entering the final 36 holes of the $7,500 Dallas Women's Open.

Continuing the putting rampage that pulled her out of early season doldrums and got her back on the trail of her fabulous 1956 record, Mrs. Hagge blistered Glen Lakes Country Club's 6,238-yards with a competitive course record 4-under-par 67 Sunday. It shot her into the lead at the halfway mark with 138 for 36 holes.

In second place was Wiffi Smith, the freckled redhead from St. Clair, Mich., who shot her second straight to Sunday.

Mamie's Grotto Leads In Bowling Tourney

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Mamie's Grotto of Milwaukee, Wis., has the lead in the Woman's International Bowling Congress tournament here.

The team rolled 2,585 Sunday. Angi's George Jordan Shirts of Erie, Pa., stood second with 2,578, while Old Crown Beer of Fort Wayne, Ind., was third with 2,575.

Empress Room of Cleveland was fourth with 2,542, and John Karg of Cincinnati dropped to fifth with 2,535.

Marge Baginski and Helen Herbrick of Chicago lead in doubles competition with 1,140, two pins better than the previous high held by Clara Zaph and Shirley Shroder of Cincinnati. Elizabeth Shearer and Martha Harriack of Fort Wayne are third.

Audrey Condry, Wooster, Ohio, tops the singles event with 595. Eleanor Jones of Three Rivers, Mich., rolled a 593 Sunday to move into second place. Shirley Shroder is third with 579.

argest Interscholastic High School Track Meet Scheduled At Mansfield

By HAL PARIS

MANSFIELD, Ohio — America's largest independent interscholastic track and field carnival will be slated here this weekend with the 26th renewal of the Mansfield High School Relays.

A large field of track enthusiasts from Ohio, Michigan and Pennsylvania is expected to vie for laurels in the annual cinder classic, directed by Harry Mebeck, Mansfield track coach.

They'll be shooting for the title captured last year by Pontiac, Mich., the first non-Ohio school to win the event since its inception in 1927.

Some outstanding track athletes, including three state champions from Ohio, already are entered in the relays. Last year, a total of 98 schools and 1,287 boys competed.

The Ohio champs include Dave Mills, a 440-yard dash star from Lakewood; Norm Bass, of Springfield, winner of the 180-yard low hurdles; and Dan Sutherland, shot put ace from Berea.

Other top-notchers include John Sharp, Michigan's 440-yard title-holder from Flint Northern and defending relays' shot put champ
Bob Reublin from Olmsted Falls.

Mills is back to defend his 430 yard crown but is expected to get stiff competition from Sharp, who finished third in the 1956 relays.

Bass, practically a one-man gang from Springfield, led the Clark County school to victory in its own invitational last Saturday.

He chalked up 17 points with victories in the low hurdles, the 440, a second place in the broad jump and a spot on Springfield's second-place mile relay team.

Bass is expected to make Springfield a title threat, despite the loss of high jumper Howard Nourse, who set the relays' record in that category last year with a leap of 6 feet, 6 1/2 inches.

The '56 classic saw six new records established and one equalled.
Host Mansfield, which has won the relays seven times, is not as strong as in past years.

East Tech has copied the event
four times in the last six years and wound up third in the state meet last year. The Ohio title was shared by Akron North and Cleveland John Adams.

Springfield, which has won here twice, turned the trick last in 1953.
Pontiac has only high jumper
Hudson Ray returning from last year's championship squad. Coach Wally Scholerke's Chiefs walked off with the title in their first appearance in the relays.

Action opens Friday afternoon with competition in the four-mile relay. A quartet from Mount Lebanon, Pa., raced the 16 laps in

TAKES OVER CUBS — Bob
Scheffing, above, of the Chicago
Cubs, will be making his debut as a major league manager this season. Cubs ended up in last place in 1956 National League pennant race.

18:57 last year, setting a new mark.

The program concludes Saturday with 17 events scheduled.

Heinsohn Voted 'Rookie Of Year'

NEW YORK (AP)—Tom Heinsohn of the Boston Celtics edged out teammate Bill Russell for "rookie of the year" honors in the National Basketball Assn. in balloting of sportswriters and broadcasters in league cities.

Heinsohn, former Holy Cross
All America, outlasted the 1956
Olympic basketball champions' star, though both failed to place on the first two teams in the league's all star selections. Russell, a defensive sensation for the Celtics this season, and two-time
All America at San Francisco, teamed with Heinsohn, Bob Cousy and Bill Sharman in dominating the balloting for the league's top players.

Bob Cousy received the most votes to make the all star team point man with 101.

for the sixth consecutive year, with Bill Sharman also being selected a member of the first five.
League scoring champ Paul Arizin of Philadelphia, and Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks, were right behind Cousy in vote-getting, while Syracuse star
Adolph Schayes was the fifth selection.

Gengarella's entered the finals by defeating Vets Cab of East Liverpool 66-65 in an overtime. Joe's defeated Freed's of East Liverpool
73-57 in the semifinal round.
Riser of Gengarella's was high scorer with 101.

Sugar Hart Faces Willie Stevenson

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer

Garnett (Sugar) Hart, upset by Boston's Walt Byars in his last start, takes on Willie (Pineapples) Stevenson, another rugged Bostonian, in a 10-round bout, at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

The lanky, hard-hitting Hart was a 5-1 favorite when he had his winning streak of 12 snapped by Byars at Madison Square Garden, last March 8. The 21-year-old Philadelphia welterweight is a 3-1 choice over Stevenson.

Pineapples is no pushover. The 23-year-old New Englander holds a win over Byars, although he lost two later to Walt, and has won 12 of his last 13. He has a 27-5 record, including seven kayos. He never has been stopped.
Hart, also winner of 12 of his last 13, has a 20-2 record, including 18

kayos. He had won seven straight by kayos until he was outdazzled
by the clever Byars.

The bout will be telecast (Dumont, 10:30 p.m., EST)

Ellsworth (Spider) Webb, streaking Chicago middleweight contender, is a 3-1 favorite to whip
New York's tall Randy Sandy in the Wednesday night radio-television (ABC 9 p.m., CST) 10-rounder at Chicago Stadium. The Spider has won 19 successive fights in posting his impressive 21-1 pro record. Sandy has an 18-6-1 record.

Fix Your Screens; Insect Air Force Has Flight Orders

The world's most numerous air force will soon deploy its legions in your neighborhood and it's none too soon to erect barricades against its coming.

In short: Bug season arrives with warm weather and you'd better look to your screens.

Are they clean? Do they need painting? Are they in need of repair?

If the dust that's settled during storage is all that you have to contend with you're fortunate. Soapy water solution, scrubbed on with a stiff-bristled brush and followed with a thorough rinsing from the garden hose, takes care of the situation.

IF IT'S THE SECOND or a subsequent season for your screens, painting may be in order, depending on type of mesh.

Bronze or copper screening should never be painted. But water runoff from bronze screening can stain house paint, and you might consider use of a good quality spar varnish, applied after the screens have been cleaned.

Aluminum screening needs no refinishing, nor does the plastic screen now in the market.

Galvanized wire screening requires painting at start of second season use, and it should receive a new paint job about every other season thereafter.

Use only well-thinned screen enamel. Apply with one of the special applicators available, or make one by tacking a piece of carpeting to a wood block.

PAINT BOTH SIDES of the screening, and keep holes in the mesh open as you work across the screen by clearing any clogged areas with a toothpick or thin wire nail.

If you're using a paint sprayer, mask frames and spray out-of-doors on a windless day.

Check frames for tightness before painting with regular house paint or varnish. If frames are beginning to sag or wobble, reinforce corners with braces made especially for screens, or screw angle irons into frames at each inner corner. Mitered joints can often be tightened by driving in corrugated fasteners.

TO PATCH BREAKS or holes in the mesh is no chore at all of you buy ready-made patches available at your hardware store. These bent into the shape of tiny hooks at their edges and patches come in various sizes. Be sure that patch you apply overlaps hole sufficiently to thwart wiggles of the most determined insect.

If you're making your own patches from a length of screening, ravel a few wires at each edge and bend these wires at right angles to the patch. Position patch, and crimp wire strands in place on side of screen opposite the patch.

If rescreening a frame is necessary, you'll find that obtaining sufficient tension to make the screen taut will be your greatest problem.

THERE ARE SEVERAL methods. Listed below are two methods you might explore:

(1) Place frame on two sawhorses, one under each end of screen frame. Tack or staple screening to one end of frame. Place two weights of equal value, one on each side of frame at midpoints.

These weights should be heavy enough to bend the frame only slightly. Fasten screening to frame at opposite end from that which was first tacked, and remove the weights. Screen will snap taut and you can then fasten side of screening in place.

(2) Set the frame on two 2x4's, one under each side, with two one-inch boards across the side members to support the ends of the sash. Tack screening to one end of sash, then clamp sides to 2x4's to get the required arc across which screening will run. Pull screening reasonably tight and tack at unfastened end. Remove clamps and frame from 2x4's, and finish the job.

USE FASTENERS similar to metal that the screening is made of to do your tacking, or an undesirable chemical reaction may take place over a period of time. For example: Copper tacks and aluminum screening set up conditions that can cause corrosion which will eat away screening at point of fastening.

For bronze or copper mesh, use copper tacks, brass brads or staples. For steel screening, use steel tacks or brads.

Aluminum screening calls for aluminum alloy tacks, stainless steel tacking, galvanized steel or blue steel tacking. Never use copper tacks for such an installation.

Tack screening to one end of sash, then clamp sides to 2x4's to get the required arc across which screening will run. Pull screening reasonably tight and tack at unfastened end. Remove clamps and frame from 2x4's, and finish the job.

USE FASTENERS similar to metal that the screening is made of to do your tacking, or an undesirable chemical reaction may take place over a period of time. For example: Copper tacks and aluminum screening set up conditions that can cause corrosion which will eat away screening at point of fastening.

For bronze or copper mesh, use copper tacks, brass brads or staples. For steel screening, use steel tacks or brads.

Aluminum screening calls for aluminum alloy tacks, stainless steel tacking, galvanized steel or blue steel tacking. Never use copper tacks for such an installation.

Fix-it Forum

Q — Can you suggest a good way to hold several pieces of plywood together for multiple sawing? I don't want to mar them with nails or clamp marks.

A — You might try wrapping the pieces with masking tape. It cuts easily and can be marked in pencil with the pattern you're planning to follow.

Home Repairs Dos, Don'ts

ROOF REPAIRS AP Newsfeatures

DO . . . repair small cracks in roll roofing on flat roofs with a generous application of asphalt cement. When an entire section needs replacing, cut the patch of roll roofing considerably larger than the damaged area, nail around the edges with rust-proof nails and cover the joints with asphalt cement.

DO . . . fix a cracked wooden shingle by driving a piece of copper sheeting under it and driving a second piece of copper under the shingle directly above.

DO . . . prevent a cracked asphalt shingle from leaking by filling the break with asphalt cement; if the crack is at a point where the shingle can be lifted a bit, put the cement under the crack as well as in it.

DO . . . replace a badly damaged asphalt shingle by removing or cutting the nails from the two shingles in the courses directly above it, taking off the shingle, nailing down a new one and covering the nailheads and any old nail holes with asphalt cement.

DON'T . . . place a patch of roll roofing over a damaged area until you have removed all chipped fragments of the old roofing.

DON'T . . . if doing any extensive roof repairing, overlook the use of a shingle hook, a flat piece of steel that fits under a shingle and hooks over a nail head.

DON'T . . . forget that, in making any repairs to the flashing on a roof valley, the important thing is that water running down the valley must be able to flow freely over the patch without interruption.

DON'T . . . try to make repairs on a roof that obviously has outlived its usefulness, otherwise new leaks will be occurring again and again, making you regretful that you didn't have a new roof installed in the first place.

Remove Dirty Wax To Brighten Floor

A complete refinishing is not always necessary when limited areas of floors become dingy. Often the smudge is caused by dirt imbedded in the wax. The floor boards may be in good shape.

In this case, the wax and dirt can be removed by a petroleum base solvent. A fresh coat of wax will be needed after cleaning.

BUILDERS PAINTING HINTS

Natural wood stains on the outside of the house should last at least five years, but natural finishes need renewal every other year. If you're using stain or penetrating natural finish, simply apply the fresh coat over the old.

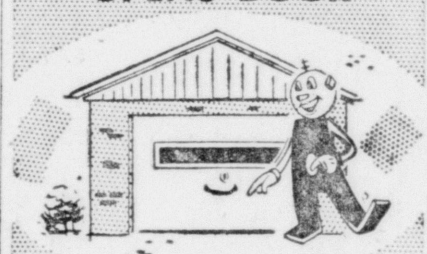

The basic rule for painting the outside of the house is to paint only after most of the old paint film has weathered away. Remember that coating thickness can build up and lead to trouble if paint is applied too frequently.

You should not need to repaint the outside of the house more often than every 6 years.

News of Meetings, Helpful Hints For Farmers

Ohio Crop Prospects

Yield prospects in Ohio are favorable for winter wheat this year despite the unfavorable start in areas of the state that were dry at seeding time last fall.

If normal conditions prevail, and based on April 1 condition, a wheat crop of 37.5 million bushels is likely for Ohio.

This production would be lower than for other recent years largely because of the reduced acreage. In certain areas of the state the wheat has suffered some damage from winter kill and recent heavy rains and production may be below average. However, in other areas the wheat prospects are excellent.

March weather was drier and warmer than normal. Favorable progress with field work resulted in about one-third of the oats being seeded compared with practically none seeded at the same time in 1956.

Spring plowing is also considerably advanced over last year with about one-third of it completed. Early April rains improved the soil moisture situation and with warmer temperatures, will favor rapid plant growth.

Grain stocks on Ohio farms as of April 1 were generally at lower levels than for April 1, 1956.

Corn stocks have only been exceeded in 1948 and in the past two years.

Wheat stocks on farms on April 1 are the lowest for the date since 1952.

Oats stocks on farms were the lowest for the date since 1950 and were 45 per cent below last year. Soybean stocks on farms on April 1 were the second highest of record for the date, only being exceeded by the 10,940,000 bushels estimated for April 1, 1955.

Pastures had made only slight growth by April 1 but condition at 86 per cent of normal was 4 points above last year. New seedlings generally came through the winter in good shape with only a limited amount of damage due to heaving. Recent rains have done much to assure a favorable early pasturing season.

Milk production per cow in herd in Ohio averaged 23.0 pounds on April 1, 1957 compared with 23.2 pounds on April 1, 1956 and the average of 18.3 pounds for the date.

The higher feeding rate of 8.4 pounds of grain per cow compared with 7.6 pounds one year ago was necessary to offset some of the low quality hay. Without the increased feeding there might even have been a greater decline in milk production.

Soil Conservation Report
The Columbiana County Soil Conservation office reports that for the first quarter of 1957, 12 new cooperators with a total of 844 acres joined the program.

Twenty-eight basic plans covering an area of 2,809 acres were completed; one plan totaling 130 acres was revised and two basic plans covering 75 acres were cancelled.

Sixty-three systematic follow-ups covering an area of 5,923 acres were made.

In land adjustments, 30 acres of cropland were converted to grassland; 42 acres of cropland to woodland; and 37 acres of grass and woods, to cropland. They marked 215 acres of contour strips.

Seventeen acres of new pasture, were seeded since the last farm visits and pasture improvements were made on 16 acres, it was reported.

Nine acres of new trees were planted.

Twelve ponds were stocked with fish.

Two new ponds were constructed and six acres of land cleared, it was reported.

Plans for a twilight tour to be held May 7 at the Francis Bezdek farm on the Elkton-Rogers road were made Friday evening at a meeting of the youth forestry committee.

Handling and evergreen forest and pruning demonstrations will be discussed. All 4-H and Future Farmers of America members are invited.

Bezdek is chairman of the forestry committee.

House To OK Postal Funds

Senate Action on Bill May Come Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House was ready to approve swiftly today a bill to give the Post Office Department another 41 million dollars to restore normal mail service.

The Senate was poised to act, possibly Tuesday, thus clearing the way for Postmaster General Summerfield to call off service cutbacks begun Saturday.

Meanwhile, a second stage of Summerfield's cutback order became effective today. Mail deliveries to city business districts were limited to two a day, and most post offices went on an 8½-hour schedule for window service.

In advance of the House voting, Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the House Appropriations Committee subcommittee handling postal funds, said he would urge the Senate to accept the 41-million-dollar figure. He said he feels that's enough to restore all postal services.

Summerfield has said he will make no move to restore service until the President signs a bill giving him more money.

He has said he must have 47 millions to keep full mail service in operation during the remaining 2½ months of this fiscal year. He has promised to restore all the cuts he can if he gets 41 millions.

He says the supplemental request was prompted by unforeseen costs. He attributed these — unexpectedly heavy mail volume, a need to open new routes to serve spreading residential areas, and a postal pay raise.

Congressional critics, including Cannon, have contended Summerfield should have lived within his regular budget of more than two billion dollars. They have accused him of violating a law designed to prevent overspending by federal agencies.

Comptroller General Joseph Campbell, head of the watchdog General Accounting Office, said the Post Office Department violated the anti-deficiency law "in spirit" while staying technically in bounds.

But Campbell, in a letter to Summerfield and Cannon, said the Budget Bureau broke the law by allowing the Post Office to spend its regular appropriation too rapidly.

He said the section of the law relating to the postal situation provides no penalty for violations.

Ohio Route 45 about four miles west of Lisbon where another interchange would be built.

It would continue east again to Ohio Route 164 where a double interchange would be built to connect the new freeway with Route 164 and Ohio Route 517.

THE NEW LIMITED-ACCESS highway then would go east for about two miles where it would connect with the new Route 7 extending from Ashtabula on Lake Erie to East Liverpool. The new Route 30 then would swing sharply to the southeast to connect once again with existing Routes 30 and 45 just northwest of Westport.

It would cross over to the south of Route 30 and swing to a more easterly direction and run parallel to present Routes 30 and 7 on into East Liverpool.

There it would tie in with East Liverpool's proposed arterial highway following along the Ohio River.

The consultants said they recommended the route because of the topography involved east of Minerva.

Two other alternatives were included in the report but neither was recommended by the consultants.

The new highway would be designed to interstate standards.

FORFEITS BOND HERE

John Nicholas, 35, of Warren, forfeited a $25 bond for speeding Saturday, Mayor Dean B. Cranmer reported today.

2 Kinds Of Body Defenses Against Cancer Reported

CHICAGO (AP)—Scientists reported Sunday that human volunteers injected with live cancer cells show we have two kinds of defenses or immunity against cancer, one general and the other specific.

Sixty-five Ohio State Penitentiary inmates in Columbus were the volunteers who allowed cancers to be implanted under their skin. So did 15 hospital patients who already had cancers.

Drs. Hester S. Southam, Alice E. Moore and C. P. Rhoads of the Sloan-Kettering Institute, New York, announced the results to the American Assn. for Cancer Research.

None of the prisoners developed cancers. The implanted cancer cells soon were destroyed by the body's general defenses.

When the same kind of cancer cells were injected a second time, they were destroyed even faster. A specific defense reaction was coming into play.

The report said when men were given a different type of cancer cell that was implanted the first time, these cancers also disappeared more quickly than the first implants. By contrast the implanted cancers grew in most of the cancer patients, until removed one to six weeks later. In four patients, the cancers recurred and grew until removed.

The studies proved, said Dr. Southam, that cancer patients lack defense mechanisms which healthy people have. Blood studies showed the cancer patients had less of an unusual protein in the blood, properdin, which is known to play a role in the body's defense mechanisms.

Amounts of properdin varied with ability to reject the cancers. Dr. Southam said there's not yet any direct evidence that properdin causes destruction of the cancers, but it's a possibility.

The vigorous rejection of cancer cells on the second injection showed the healthy volunteers had developed a specific immune mechanism. Blood samples are still being studied to see if these men developed antibodies against cancer cells.

Faith

faith is Jesus Christ who is the same yesterday, today and forever," Dr. Bader noted. "Faith is reciprocal. It is a two-way street. We not only believe in Christ but He believes in us. His faith in us inspires and strengthens us to meet the daily duties of life.

"Many in Salem are better men and women because someone believes in and trusts them. Because of this attitude, they try not to disappoint those who do have faith in them," the speaker concluded.

Soloist at the service was Mrs. Oliver Davis. Rev. Harold Deitch, pastor of the First Christian Church, introduced the speaker.

Today's noon service was devoted "youth day" and sponsoring churches included the Christian, Holy Trinity English Lutheran and First Baptist.

Eden's Response To Operation Is Good

BOSTON (AP)—Sir Anthony Eden was reported today to have spent a satisfactory night with adequate sleep and that his early response to Saturday's operation for a bile duct obstruction "has been good."

Dr. Richard B. Cattell, the surgeon who performed the operation at New England Baptist Hospital, signed the bulletin along with Dr. John W. Norcross, his associate.

Sir Horace Evans, Eden's personal physician who observed the operation, was back in London today and said doctors hoped Eden might be out of the hospital in three weeks.

Nasser Faces Fight To Retain Leadership

CAIRO (AP)—Egypt's President Nasser faces the fight of his political life to retain leadership of the Arab world after King Hussein's coup in Jordan.

Hussein's overthrow of pro-Egyptian elements represents a major break in the so-called "free Arab" front—a grouping of states who oppose the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact and formal Arab ties with the West. The group is composed of Egypt, Syria, Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Yemen.

Winning Jordan over to this Arab clique had been one of Nasser's signal victories over the West of the past two years.

Jordan

about to end his talks with Jordanian party leaders on forming a new cabinet.

Misleading Rumors
The embassy press statement denied what it described as "misleading rumors" of rioting and violence in Jordan, and that "disension occurred in the Jordanian army."

Syrian Premier Sabri Assali expressed hope in Damascus that stability would be restored soon in Jordan. He added that Syria and all other Arab states are "keen over the safeguarding of Jordan's independence and unity" and hope efforts of Hussein and party leaders could lead to a way out of the present crisis.

A spokesman at Hussein's palace, reached by telephone from Damascus, denied reports of demonstrations in Amman, the Jordan capital, and said, "Things are quiet here."

But wild demonstrations were reported Sunday in Palestine towns, held by Jordan since the 1948 war, at word that Hussein had deposed the pro-Egyptian army chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Ali Abu Nawar, to Syria and placed ousted Premier Suleiman Nabulsi under house arrest.

Leading members of Nabulsi's old Cabinet forced out last week by Hussein also were reported detained. Many of Nabulsi's followers in Parliament began fleeing across the Syrian border.

The pro-Socialist Damascus Daily Al Rayalaam said a "National front" made up of the three parties in Nabulsi's cabinet had decided to start a "popular resistance" against the king's latest measures. The paper said leaders of the group had left Amman for their homes to direct resistance, but that some were arrested en route.

Strike Is Threatened
A strike against the 22-year-old monarch's army-backed coup was threatened as resentment spread among followers of the popular Nabulsi, a leading opponent of ties with the West and an advocate of close relations with Egypt, Syria and the Soviet Union.

Tanks guarded the royal palace in the wake of two reported clashes between army units loyal to Hussein and military elements sympathetic to Syria and Egypt.

Syrian sources in Damascus described the king's action as a pro-Iraq coup d'etat. Iraq is ruled by Hussein's cousin King Faisal, and is the special object of Egyptian and Syrian hatred because of its alliance with the West through the Baghdad Pact.

Damascus papers reported rumors that the Iraqi brigade stationed along Jordan's eastern frontier had been reinforced by a heavily equipped regiment a week ago.

A Syrian official denied earlier reports that a Syrian armored regiment had moved last week into north Jordan. About 3,000 Syrian troops already were in that sector of Jordan, stationed there since the Israeli invasion of Egypt last fall. Saudi Arabian troops are stationed in south Jordan.

The palace spokesman in Amman said decrees forming a new cabinet under Said Mufli, independent speaker of Jordan's Senate, would be issued later today. Earlier reports in Damascus had said Mufli, a former premier, had refused to continue his government-forming efforts because of the king's drastic action.

The spokesman also said no one so far had been named head of the army to replace Nawar, leader of the pro-Egyptian clique of officers.

Moscow radio in one of Arabic broadcasts charged U.S. Embassy in Amman was hind the crisis.

Informants said Hussein acted against Nawar and the Nab faction after a clash between desert regiment loyal to the crown and pro-Nawar soldiers at a military base in Zarka, 30 miles southeast of Amman. Three pro-Nawar officers were reported killed, wounded and 10 captured.

Another clash reportedly occurred between loyal and pro-Nawar troops at Ajloun, on Jordan's northern border.

Wild anti-Hussein rallies were reported from the cities of Jerusalem, Nablus and Ramallah. Demonstrators chanted demands that Jordan be merged with Syria.

However, a group of Canadian tourists who crossed the Israeli border from the Jordan sector Jerusalem reported the situation was quiet in the old sector of Holy City.

The Jordan censors apparently deleted from outgoing news releases all reference to the king's coup. A dispatch today from Amman made no mention of the king's drastic action and spoke only of Mufli's attempts to form a new cabinet.

The dispatch quoted a letter from the king to Mufli stating, however, that the new government should "remedy policies which have been spread by government administrations and government schools." This apparently referred to Nabulsi's letters toward the communists in Russia.

The king still appeared uneasy about an open break with Nasser and toward the West. He said in his letter that Jordan opposed imperialism and foreign pacts; rejects schemes which the Egypt-Syria-Jordan-Saudi Arabia alliance are not agreed on. This apparently was a reference to Eisenhower Doctrine.

Temperatures will average 46 degrees below normal; north high 58 north to 64 south; north low 33 to 42. Warmer Tuesday; Wednesday, cooler Thursday; Friday, warmer again by Saturday. Showers likely Wednesday through Thursday, averaging ½ to 1 in.

COUNCIL WILL MEET
City Council is expected to have a report on the city's street repair and improvement program tomorrow night at its regular meeting. Estimates on the asphalt paving of Ridgewood Ave. and 16th are also expected to be heard.

WOMAN HURT IN FALL
Mrs. Cora Plunkett, 65, of West Point sustained a possible fracture of the right hip when
